

KEVIN JESSIP

CEO, GLOBAL STRATEGIC ALLIANCE

PROFILE

Rev. Kevin Jessip is a visionary C-level executive and faith leader bridging business acumen with spiritual advocacy. As President of Global Strategic Alliance (GSA), he advises national and global leaders in business, politics, and faith communities, forging strategic alliances that drive transformation. His expertise in relationship-building has birthed initiatives like The Nehemiah Project for city renewal and The Joseph Mandate for Judeo-Christian unity. A tireless advocate against anti-Semitism and for persecuted believers, Kevin speaks at elite forums—from the White House to the U.N.—mobilizing millions for national repentance and Israel's support. His reputation as a prophetic influencer inspires trust among dignitaries, generals, and grassroots networks, amplifying voices for moral restoration worldwide.

CONTACT

(561) 254-5119

kevin@GSAMinistries.org

GSAMinistries.org

TheReturn.org

SKILLS

- Strategic Alliance Building
- Visionary Leadership
- C-Level Executive Expertise
- Global Advocacy
- Policy Development
- Public Speaking
- Diplomacy
- Interfaith Collaboration
- Community Mobilization
- Media Engagement
- Legislative Advocacy
- Crisis Response

BIOGRAPHY

Rev. Jessip's journey as a transformative faith leader began as a teen engaged in worldwide evangelistic ministry. As a young adult, Jessip became a notable fixture in churches, on campuses and on television. In the corporate arena, he rose to C-level executive at one of the world's largest publicly traded companies. With this foundation, Jessip joined his visionary skills with ministry, founding Global Strategic Alliance (GSA) to restore Judeo-Christian values at local, national, and international levels. GSA serves as a dynamic hub, equipping believers through prayer, civic engagement, and strategic partnerships to advocate for the marginalized and to counter global threats to faith freedoms.

A cornerstone of Kevin's legacy is his founding of The Return movement, a global cry for national spiritual repentance (Teshuva) rooted in Judeo-Christian heritage. Collaborating with faith leaders and government officials, he mobilizes millions to reclaim Torah principles, addressing America's intersection with Israel's future. His burden for Israel shines through GSA's campaigns against anti-Semitism and the delegitimization of the Jewish state. GSA has sponsored the Israel 70 and Strong Summit at the Museum of the Bible, and clergy tours via American Christian Leaders for Israel.

Kevin's prowess as a relationship builder is evident in The Nehemiah Project, a best-in-class initiative for national transformation. He drafted its framework for then-HUD Secretary Ben Carson during President Trump's first term, coordinating churches nationwide for community renewal. Through the Joseph Mandate, GSA unites Christian and Jewish networks worldwide, creating platforms for rabbis, pastors, elected officials, and business leaders to foster global spiritual transformation.

His advocacy extends to the persecuted church, having chaired the board of Save the Persecuted Christians, a coalition supporting over 300 million believers worldwide under the Center for Security Policy. Jessip also collaborated with the EMP Task Force, Secure the Grid, and Present Danger China committees. He has worked alongside the world's top ministry, business and government officials.

Guided by the Holy Spirit, Kevin has keynoted at the United Nations and White House on persecuted minorities, co-sponsored congressional legislation for their protection, and rallied on the National Mall for national repentance. He supported the International Christian Embassy Jerusalem in lobbying against President Obama's Iranian nuclear deal and celebrated the U.S. Embassy's move to Jerusalem. As a faith-based liaison in the Trump Administration (spanning HUD, USDA, Energy, and State Department) Kevin has also keynoted at various events in Washington, Mar-a-Lago, the State Department, Congress, the UN, The Hague, and Israel's Knesset.

A sought-after speaker on national broadcasts, leadership conferences, and global churches, Kevin's behind-the-scenes diplomacy with media and governments amplifies GSA's impact, connecting organizations for strategic global change. His life's work embodies proactive restoration, ensuring Judeo-Christian principles endure amid persecution and cultural shifts.